UNLOCK HUMAN POTENTIAL

An accredited, not-for-profit institution, The Chicago School is the nation's oldest and largest graduate school devoted exclusively to psychology and related behavioral sciences.

Here, you'll receive more than a world-class education. You'll have access to an unrivaled range of real-world training opportunities—right on campus, in the local community, and around the globe—to build a relevant, robust resume that will set you apart and prepare you to make an impact in a way few other graduates can.

ENGAGE

The Chicago School's unique educational model—known as the Engaged Professional Model—is based heavily on learning through community service. At The Chicago School you will learn to be an “engaged” and active participant in the community, applying your knowledge and skills in new and powerful ways to serve the greater good.

IMMERSE

At The Chicago School, you'll get so much more than the single internship provided by many graduate programs. You will have the opportunity to work with a multitude of populations in a vast range of settings. The resume you take with you at graduation will reflect a breadth and depth of experience to set you apart from your peers.

SERVE

Our innovative approach to community collaboration enables you to begin addressing community needs and making a meaningful impact from your first semester on campus. Our efforts have placed us on the President's Honor Roll with Distinction, the highest federal recognition a higher education institution can receive for community service.

HANDS-ON TRAINING RIGHT ON CAMPUS, IN THE COMMUNITY, AND AROUND THE GLOBE

While many schools assist students with obtaining a single, required internship, The Chicago School links students with an unparalleled range of inspiring and enriching hands-on training experiences—equating to more than 800,000 hours of high-impact, career-relevant work in local and international communities every year.

ON-CAMPUS TRAINING

At our innovative Chicago School centers, housed right inside each of our campuses, our students train and work alongside faculty, providing a variety of services to local real-world clients.

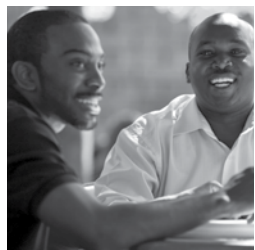

COMMUNITY TRAINING

Through our unique community partnership model, we link students to literally hundreds of training opportunities (above and beyond their traditional internships and practicums) at our many “partner agencies” in each of our local communities.

INTERNATIONAL TRAINING

Through our Office of International Affairs, Chicago School students are linked to a vast range of service-learning and field work experiences around the globe.

SMALL CAMPUS, BIG CITY

Located in thriving metropolitan areas that offer students access to unlimited opportunities for cultural enrichment and clinical training, our campuses also function as close-knit learning communities that encourage frequent interaction and collaboration with faculty and fellow students.

Chicago

Located directly on the Chicago River, our downtown campus is just steps away from Lake Michigan, the theater district, the famed Magnificent Mile, dozens of museums, and some of the world's best restaurants and clubs. Chicago is often described as a colorful patchwork quilt of diverse neighborhoods and provides a truly multicultural environment for your educational training.

Grayslake

For working professionals and those living in the northern suburbs of Chicago, we also offer flexible evening/weekend programs at the University Center of Lake County in Grayslake, Illinois.

Washington, D.C.

Our D.C. Campus is within walking distance of the White House and just minutes from the monuments, museums, and government offices that give the city its vitality and distinction. Students have access to the cultural riches that define the city and to a plethora of agencies and organizations that provide them with hands-on learning and service opportunities.

Los Angeles

Perhaps best known for the sparkle of Hollywood, world-class shopping, and incredible nightlife, Los Angeles is also home to our largest West Coast campus—and to unmatched cultural and social diversity, providing students with never-ending opportunities for personal enrichment, professional training, and community service.

Irvine

Our Irvine Campus is located near the UC Irvine campus, in a charming area bustling with college students, quaint shops, open-air cafes, and a variety of restaurants. Students enjoy convenient parking, access to UC Irvine's libraries, and a short drive to freeways, area beaches, and Disneyland.

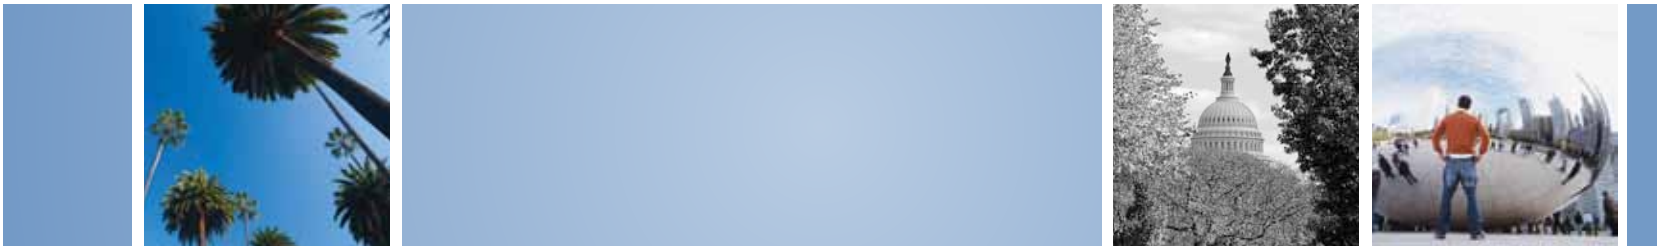

Westwood

Our Westwood Campus is located in the center of Westwood Village, a lively neighborhood next to the UCLA campus and a short drive from Beverly Hills, Santa Monica, and several public beaches. This urban yet suburban neighborhood, complete with high-end restaurants, eclectic cafés, lively sandwich shops, and retail shopping, provides students access to UCLA's world-class libraries and other amenities.

Online-Blended Programs

Can't make it to one of our campuses? The Chicago School's online-blended programs are designed to make distance learning feel anything but distant. You'll be able to interact directly with faculty and fellow students and gain real-world experience in a flexible format that suits your needs.

Interviews

Based on application evaluation, selected doctoral program candidates may be invited to interview for further consideration of their applications. In some cases, students applying to the Ed.S. or M.A. programs may be asked to interview.

TOEFL or IELTS, International Credentials, and International Students

If English is not a student's primary language, he/she must submit official TOEFL or IELTS scores with his/her application (TOEFL School Code: 7161). International students who received a bachelor's degree from an accredited U.S. institution are exempt from this requirement. The minimum scores are: TOEFL – 550 paper based and 79 Internet based; IELTS – 6.5. International credentials: Applicants with international credentials must obtain and submit an official "course-by-course" evaluation through an evaluation agency such as World Education Services (wes.org) or Educational Credential Evaluators Inc. (ece.org). This requirement applies to all international students, including those from English-speaking countries. In addition to the agency evaluation, all official graduate and undergraduate transcripts must be submitted.

International students: International students must submit a completed application by the general consideration deadline. This will allow sufficient time to obtain the additional documentation required to study in the United States. In addition, once accepted, international students must submit the International Student Information Form, a copy of their passport, and financial documentation showing sufficient funding for at least one year of study and all living expenses. In most cases, this documentation must be submitted at least two months prior to the start of the semester in order to allow sufficient time for the school to issue an I-20 for the student to obtain an F-1 visa, if needed. An I-20 visa will not be issued without this documentation.

GPA

- Doctoral and Ed.S. programs typically require a 3.2 or higher (4.0 scale).
- Master's programs typically require a 3.0 or higher.
- Though academic achievement is important, each applicant is reviewed holistically, and factors such as personal and professional experience and accomplishments are taken into consideration.

GRE/GMAT

The Graduate Record Examination (GRE) is required for select Psy.D. programs. Submission of the GRE is not required for our Ph.D., Ed.D., Ed.S., or M.A. programs; however, we encourage students to submit their scores to enhance their applications.

Students applying to the Psy.D. in Business Psychology program may submit the Graduate Management Admission Test (GMAT) in lieu of the GRE. Students applying to the M.A. in Industrial/Organizational Psychology program may also submit the GMAT to enhance their applications.

- Students must have official scores sent to The Chicago School:
- GRE School Code 1119
 - GMAT School Code for Business Psychology BLR-4V-87
 - GMAT for Industrial and Organizational Psychology BLR-4V-21

Undergraduate Coursework

All required undergraduate coursework must be completed prior to enrollment, with an average earned grade of "C" or better. For program-specific information, please visit the Application Requirements link under the Admission tab at thechicagoschool.edu.

ADMISSIONS

Admission to The Chicago School is open to any person who has earned a bachelor's degree from an accredited institution and who meets other entrance and pre-requisite requirements. Factors that are considered in admission may include GPA from undergraduate institutions and graduate schools, GRE general test scores (for select programs), relevant work history, required essay(s), letters of recommendation, and in-person interviews. Please see the application for detailed instructions and information regarding application requirements, deadlines, and letters of recommendation for each specific program. Applications must be submitted with the required processing fee in order to be evaluated.
